THE INTELLIGENT JUROR IN MAINE.—A curious way of reaching a verdict has just been ... in the case of Thomas A. Pike, the alleged wife-murderer, who was recently found guilty of manslaughter at Portland. After the jury retired it was discovered that they stood seven for conviction on a charge of manslaughter and one for conviction on a charge of assault and battery. After some eight hours' session and earnest discussion, it was agreed that eleven ballots marked "guilty" and one ballot marked "not guilty," should be put into a hat, and the juror in favor of conviction for assault and battery was to draw one. If he drew the ballot "not guilty," then the verdict was to stand as it was, eleven to one, but if he drew "guilty" the verdict of conviction for manslaughter was to be rendered. He drew the latter, and the verdict was so rendered. The matter being brought to the notice of the court the verdict has been set aside and a new trial ordered.

COMMENCEMENT AT THE GROVE

FOREST GROVE, June ... 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

It ... ted. Another year has passed away and again Commencement Day at the Pacific University has come and with it many of those who in years gone by wandered in her classic shades, drank at her fountains of knowledge and the foundations of useful lives ... the Profs and robbed the neighboring watermelon patches—to say nothing of hen roost. These have come back to visit once more the scenes of those pleasant happy bygone days of youth—once more to imagine themselves boys and girls, thus at once allowing themselves a pleasant day and honoring their beloved Alma Mat.

The attendance of the alumni and visitors this year is much larger than usual, thus showing that interest in educational affairs of the people of our young State is on the increase. A very favorable symptom it is too and an encouraging one to men who like Doctor Marsh and Professors Lyman, Collier and Marsh have devoted the best years and energies of a life time to the founding and building up here in the Far West of an institution of learning, that for excellence of curriculum and thoroughness of mental discipline is equalled by few and excelled by none even in our sister States of the Atlantic coast. Their object is indeed a grand one, the end they seek noble, but their labor has been none the less onerous, the difficulties they have overcome many and great. The contemplation of the lives and labors of men like Doctor Marsh does much to strengthen one's faith in humanity and proves that even in our degenerate age there are men who can and do forget and put aside self, and labor for the good of others leaving it to posterity properly to estimate their labors and appreciate their motives. And half a century hence the Pacific University will stand a "monument more enduring than brass, more beautiful than marble," a blessed and perpetual reminder of the energy and self sacrificing labors of its founder and men with grateful hearts and bowed heads will reverently speak of Doctor Marsh as among the first and most eminent of Oregon's Christian educators.

The exercises of commencement will be more than usually interesting this year. The "Baccalaureate Sermon" was delivered last Sunday to the graduating class by President Marsh in the presence of a large congregation, and if the principles therein set forth and the advice given are heeded and acted upon, the members of the class need have no fear of failure in their life-work, no anxiety as to their ultimate success in all that makes life worth living.

The annual lecture before the literary societies of the College and Academy was delivered last night by the Rev Mr Nesbit, his subject being the hail of the sentinel—"Who goes there?" The speaker showed the need of classical education from an economic and politic standpoint and proved, by an original and witty but conclusive argument that it "pays" to be educated, and that a college education is a large funded and well invested capital.

To day the graduating class consisting of two ladies and four young gentlemen read their essays and delivered their orations before a large and enthusiastic audience, the auditorium of the church being densely crowded and many were turned away for want of room. The class was composed of two in the classical course, viz Messrs E and H McCornack, two in the scientific course—Messrs Stephenson and Latourette, and two in the ladies' course—Misses Scott and Henshaw. The orations and essays were all good and well delivered, but those of H McCornack—subject "Capital and Labor"—and L McCornack—subject, "Oblivion"—are worthy of especial notice. The first was a practical and an able discussion of that much debated question of the supposed natural antagonism between the employer and employee. The second an almost poetic but none the less convincing, and unanswerable demonstration of the utter uselessness of all effort and striving on the part of poor humanity to be remembered by posterity when actuated by any other than a sincere desire to benefit one's fellow man.

After the exercises of the graduating class the Rev Mr Van Horn delivered the address to the "Alumni Association of the College." Subject: "The True Relations of Life." The address was both able and eloquent. After the address the degrees were conferred by the President.

In vocal music Forest Grove excels any town in Oregon and that furnished last night and to day by the College Choir under the leadership and direction of Miss Haskell, was indeed beautiful. Here and only here in Oregon, so far as my observation extends, can be seen and heard a large and powerful choir singing songs, anthems and oratorios not only melodiously and correctly but so that every word can be distinctly heard and understood.

To night the exercises were brought to a happy close by a Grand Reunion at the residence of Doctor Marsh, at which mirth and social pleasure reigned supreme until the "wee sma' hour," when the good byes were spoken, some happy tears were shed, some warm pressures of the hand given and "good bye Tom," "God bless you Mary," "Harry"—or "Jane," as the case might be, were repeated the last time. Young fond eyes looked love to eyes that spake again." The pleasant adieus of the host and hostess were pronounced the speedy return of all requested and the commencement day of A. D. 1874 was over; and all except your correspondent sought their pillows to invoke the sleep of innocence, no doubt like Don Quixotte's valiant Squire invoking blessings on the blessed head of him who first invented sleep. And here we rest, only hoping it may be our lot to enjoy many other as pleasant and profitable and pleasant commencement days at the Pacific University.

ONE OF THE OLDSTERS.

RECOVERING.—The many friends of Col J. ... Dow, of Umatilla county, will be pleased to learn that that gentleman has so far recovered his health as to be able to be around. The excitement of a political campaign in which the Colonel took an active and prominent part was the immediate cause of his illness. The canvass being over and the strain on his mental faculties having been withdrawn, the Colonel at once regained his health and is himself again. The speeches made by him during the progress of the campaign not only surprised his friends but extorted admiration from his opponents, some going so far as to compare them with the best efforts of Webster and Clay. Be this as it may, there can be no doubt but that the Colonel, by the able manner in which he conducted the canvass, has added greatly to his reputation as an orator and statesman. When he gets to Washington he will rank among the ablest debaters in Congress and we would advise Ben Butler to look to his laurels ... Make way for the coming man, Colonel George A. LaDow.—Walla Walla Statesman.

REBELLION IN BOWDOIN COLLEGE.—A dispatch from Brunswick, Me., May ..., says: The students of Bowdoin College have for some time past manifested an aversion to the military drill, which is required of them. ... the Sophomore and Freshman classes held meetings ... and agreed not to drill, ... of the two classes, excepting two ... signing a paper to that effect. ... were ... to sign the paper ... the privilege ... the hour for drill this morning. The juniors ... meeting ... after which there was a joint meeting of the three classes, and an agreement was signed that the suspension or expulsion of one of their number would be considered by them as the suspension or expulsion of all. The faculty have the matter under consideration, and ... the students will insist upon the students receding from their position or expulsion will follow.

OREGON

The Circuit Court for Marion county, Hon. ... Judge, will ... on Monday next.

A barn belonging to Wm Nesbitt, at Salem, was burnt ... last Wednesday afternoon. Loss about $ ...

The Knappton Mills have secured a contract for ... 000 feet of lumber for the Astoria Farmers Company's new wharf extension.

P. H. McCormick, of Atchison, Kansas, writes W. C. H. Bain, of Astoria, that several families of farmers and mechanics are heading for this part of Oregon.

The exciting contest the election held in Salem Monday was very quiet, altogether. No arrests were made at all, and only one disturbance was noted in the city during the day.

The Warren Bros. have lately opened a new logging camp in Clatsop county, near Knappa, where they propose to put 200,000 feet of ... in the market for milling purposes this season.

A grand picnic and musical union was held at Monitor Mills, Marion county, May 29th, in which over 500 persons took part. Speeches, recitations, music and eating were freely indulged in and everybody was merry.

On the morning of the 1st inst, four boats belonging to Mr Falkinburg of Woody's Island returned with 532 salmon—134 to the boat. At one drift one boat took 90 fish. Some of these fish were towed by a cord behind the boat, which was overloaded.

Mr T. C. Shaw on Wednesday tendered his resignation of the office of County Assessor of Marion county, in view of his probable election to the office of Sheriff. The County Court accepted his resignation and appointed Mr K. L. Hibbard to fill the vacancy.

Two democratically inclined lads of Salem were burning a little powder Wednesday over the supposed election of Grover. One of them named Matthews stood too near the combustible and his hair won't need cutting for some time. He is also minus eyebrows.

The Salem fire companies at a fire the other day saved several buildings by a great effort, among which were some owned by Mr Albert Kinney. For their untiring efforts Mr Kinney immediately after the fire was extinguished made a present of $10 to each of the companies.

The Salem Statesman says the Capital Lumbering Company are evidently doing a good office business. They have a large contract for sawing out lumber for the San Francisco market. Yesterday they received two other large contracts which will keep their mills running for some time full handed. The contracts obtained are for Kinney & Co's large warehouse, which will use about 200,000 feet of lumber, and Breyman Bros brick, which will use between 60,000 and 70,000 feet.

A correspondent of the Record, writing about the election at Gervais, Marion county, says: It was evident from quite early in the morning that lively times were coming. So about 3 o'clock in the evening the ball was set fairly in motion. A small row was started among the half breed element which soon assumed the form of a regular free fight, and so all hands waded in, men were knocked down in every direction. At least twenty were engaged in a hand to hand conflict and still they fought—the main field of battle being in front of Hayes drug store, in the middle of the street. Officers of the peace could do nothing with the fighting element, so they stood back and let it spend its force. And so it continued for 10 or 15 minutes when quiet was partially restored, when there was an afterpiece came in by way of one of the bullies mounting on to the sidewalk in front of the drug store and knocking a man off headlong into the street. An officer put in his timely interference and separated the wary combatants. So ends the fight at present writing. There is at present quite a demand for sticking plaster and the Justice of the Peace and constable are doing a lively business.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The rumor brought up from Victoria last week that there was small pox in that city proves too true. A family from Arkansas named Perry came up on the Prince Alfred the last trip, and shortly after their arrival it was found that two young men aged 16 and 21 years were ill with the small pox. They, together with their father, mother and sister, were removed to the pest house, and Peter, the younger son, died the same evening. The other son has since died and the mother and daughter are down with the disease. They are supposed to have contracted the disease on the railway, but it did not develop until after their arrival there. A telegram was sent to San Francisco to inform the authorities so that the Prince Alfred might be intercepted, and she now lies in quarantine in the harbor.

SWING, THE HERETIC

A trial for heresy is not a common thing in these days. The Presbytery of Chicago has just disposed of the case of David Swing, pastor of a Presbyterian church in that city, accused by Prof Patton of preaching heretical doctrine. Here is one of Swing's unorthodox utterances:

The civilized world, in all its length and breadth, cries out for a Heavenly Father. I read it in the letters which Infidels write. I see it everywhere. The world needs a Heavenly Father. Whether the tenderness of liberty which loves all alike and which has mitigated all human government has also mitigated the government of God, one may not boldly affirm, but certain it is that the same age that gives America only a President and England only a gentle loving Queen, and France only a plain citizen for its guide and Spain only an orator for its Chief, gives the civilized world a God who has thrown aside the character of an enemy to put on evermore the love, the lineaments of a Father and a Savior. A need ... has sprung up in the public heart for this conception of God. And it is as vain to deny it as it would be to deny that man has reached a need of freedom in politics, or a need of books in his mental life.

SAWYER'S LETTER.—A Washington dispatch ... says: Secretary of the Treasury Sawyer ... before the Committee of Ways and Means ... referred particularly to the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad case ... [illegible] ... the Committee ... [illegible]

The Statesman takes the result of the election in the State in a more philosophical way than the rest of the Republican papers. It sums up the case as follows:

The returns are too incomplete to be in to tabulate. Grover and probably the entire Democratic State ticket, including Rev. Dr. ..., Dowell and ... Eastern Oregon man, J. Dow—are elected beyond any doubt. The next Legislature will be mostly Democratic and Independent with a slight sprinkling of Republicans. The state of the case is what we have met ... and we are there ...

THE TERRITORIES

The brig J. ... has been lying in the harbor at Seattle for ... weeks past.

Some 150 tons of coal from the Renton coal mine are to-day being put on board the Hector.

Quite a severe frost visited Olympia last Tuesday night nipping the tomato vines, potatoes etc.

John Tunnell, of some notoriety in Seattle, is preparing to close out his entire liquor business and connections, also to keep the tireless temperance house of entertainment.

The following are the names of those elected to fill the various offices of the Temperance Alliance in King county: For President, Prof. J. H. Hall; Vice President, John Webster; Treasurer, Dexter Horton; Chaplain, Rev Mr Casper; Secretary, D. L. Ward.

Two lots in front of the University at Seattle were last week sold at public auction for nineteen hundred and seventy five dollars gold coin. They were part of the estate of J. Buckley, deceased. D. Horton and A. Mackintosh were the purchasers.

Mount Rainier gives tokens of being an active volcano in operation. Immense volumes of dense black smoke were seen issuing from the side of the mountain recently. If volcanic eruptions and earthquakes have a common origin we may look for a ground swell ere long.

The Port Townsend Argus reports the burning of the mill cook house, blacksmith shop and several dwellings on Chimacum Creek last Tuesday. The fire originated in the woods adjoining. The loss is estimated at $4,000 and will fall upon Major Granville O. Haller.

A few days ago as Mr H. G. Parsons of Chambers Prairie, W. T., was settling a swarm of bees, a bunch of bees as large as a quart cup settled on the back of his head, hanging to his hair, and fearing no evil he let them remain until the hive was ready for their reception, but before he got rid of them he was stung in a number of places about the back of the head and neck, from which he had a very sick turn.

FRIDAY MORNING JUNE 5 1874

COME BROTHER LET US REASON

The Bulletin argues at length or rather makes a serious attempt at length to make it appear that the election of Grover is due to the efforts of the OREGONIAN The OREGONIAN as all its readers know cast what ever influence it possessed into the contest for Campbell laboring for his election as sincerely and as earnestly as it ever labored in any cause We liked not Grover with his Bourbonism and we disliked Tolman with his Custom House coalition That was our position all through and it was well known to all our readers It is true that if all the votes given to Campbell had been given to Tolman the latter would have been elected Governor by an unprecedented majority instead of being defeated and it is equally true that had all the votes of Tolman been given to Campbell, he would have beaten Grover almost two to one In this sense every vote cast for Tolman or Campbell assisted to elect Grover But there is no doubt now we presume in the minds of Mr Tolman's supporters even that had all the voters who actually preferred Campbell before either of his competitors voted for him he would have been chosen by a handsome plurality That he is not elected is owing to the fact that the Custom House ring determined to beat him at any cost,— at all hazards" to use the language of their leader's telegram in regard to Shattuck—and perceiving that it was impossible to elect Tolman made an organized effort all over the country to induce Campbell's friends who preferred Tolman to Grover to vote for Tolman as the only way to defeat Grover And some doubtless though not so many, voted for Grover as the only means of defeating Tolman when they would have greatly preferred the election of Campbell. Thus Campbell was between two fires, and was defeated through the mistaken notion that he could not be elected, not because he was not the choice of the country It was his fate to be the victim of the common idea that independent tickets never command a respectable vote The Custom House party made the most of the opportunity offered them by the prevalence of this idea to deceive the people, and did deceive many Only those who were in constant communication with the people all through the State by means of correspondence and personal report could be expected to be wholly free from that prejudice or prejudgment against the chances of the Independent ticket, and it was difficult to bring the people to see the fact which they now see plainly that the Independent ticket had more positive strength than either of the partisan tickets But for this Campbell and Davenport both might have been elected

The Bulletin, perhaps, honestly entertains the idea that we desired the election of Grover It seems hardly possible that such should be the case, after all that we did during the campaign both through the OREGONIAN and on the stump to prevent his re election, but we are not disposed to judge the motives of the Bulletin in making this statement, and we recognize the truth that prejudice sometimes warps the judgment and distorts the vision of intelligent men even to the extent which the Bulletin would have to be warped and blinded in order to believe we wished to see Grover elected The Bulletin is just now in a condition to be easily imposed upon in regard to our objects and purposes Somebody told the editor of that journal that the editor of the OREGONIAN himself voted for Grover, and the Bulletin in the next morning's (Wednesday's) issue, and in its leading editorial stated positively that we voted for Grover apparently not stopping to ask how its informant came to know what name was upon our ballot. But we can readily believe the editor of the Bulletin was really deceived, for on Wednesday we sent him a note stating that we had voted for T F Campbell for Governor, and for every candidate on the Independent State ticket, and he did us the justice to publish our correction in Thursday's Bulletin We refer to this only as exemplification of the truth that the Bulletin is just now in a situation to be easily imposed on and we do not care to take any further exception to its statements upon the subject than to say it is an error into which the editor of the Bulletin has fallen in consequence of his anxiety for Tolman's election and which he will hardly hold on to after the mortification of defeat has given place to calm reason

THEY REPENT IT AT LEISURE,

Our Dallas correspondent writes that the Independents of Polk have elected their entire county ticket And that they would have given Campbell more votes than Grover and Tolman both together had not a large number of persons voted for Tolman under the impression that Campbell was not going to receive a respectable vote We fully agree with our correspondent that such persons deserved the defeat they have got Suppose Campbell had small prospect of receiving a respectable vote, would that be any reason why a voter who considered him the fittest man for the place should refuse to vote for him? The only safe rule is to vote upon principle though one votes alone Had the people who preferred Campbell to either of the other candidates done this they would to-day have the pleasure of seeing their first choice triumphantly elected Governor of Oregon We can appreciate the embarrassing situation of those who chose between Tolman and Grover as a choice between evils under the impression that Campbell had no chance but they will agree now that we were right in urging them to vote for their first preference and let consequences take care of themselves The result of their misjudgment is that the State is to have another four years of Bourbon rule where a little more independent obedience to conviction would have secured a Governor devoted to the interests of the people and not bent on self promotion

In Linn county the Independents get one of the three Senators and [illegible] of the [illegible] Representatives

THE NON PARTISAN JUDICIAL ELECTION

Returns from this Judicial District on the election of Justice of the Supreme Court astonish even the most ardent friends of the principle of non partisan judiciary While it is true that the cause was helped very much by the unequaled popularity of the Independent candidate Hon E D Shattuck it is true also that in his election the people have testified their conviction that the purity of the judiciary is a thing to be sought first and that the bringing of the bench into the arena of party politics is not calculated to secure that object We are not now called upon to discuss the question from the standpoint of the effect of party spirit in selecting judges heretofore It is however but just to the gentlemen who have filled the offices of judges of our Higher Courts to say that they have been as fit men for their positions as could have been obtained under the system by which they have been selected No person who has observed the workings of politics in the State and who has been also familiar with the history of judiciary will gainsay this But the tendency of the system is bad and bad only In principle it is unsound and in practice it has worked badly in other States and would eventually work equally bad in Oregon

Proud as we are of the result as a victory of the people over the ring we are still more gratified at it as a triumph of the principle of non partisan judicial election Let every good citizen take heart from this event and plant himself for all the future upon the high ground of a pure Supreme bench, uncontrolled by partisan considerations and uninfluenced by the sense of obligation to political friends

THE NET RESULT

The Independents have elected their entire County and Legislative tickets in Polk, Washington Wasco, Douglas and Columbia counties and have elected portions of the ticket in Multnomah, Lane Linn and perhaps several other Returns come in so slowly that it is impossible to give our readers any particular statement of the result It is fully certain that the entire Democratic State ticket is elected and that the Legislature will be so divided that no party can claim a majority The Democrats and Independents have each more members than the Republicans.

The whole matter may be summed up as follows The Democrats have carried the entire State ticket the Independents have elected the entire judicial ticket and the Legislature is secured against the control of any party

Adolf Chess Chief Engineer of the Board of Public Works of the District of Columbia has just been removed because as it is alleged Governor Shepherd and his virtuous colleagues informed the President that he (Chess) had perjured himself in his testimony concerning false measurement and overcharges. This censure and summary disposal of a troublesome witness was much more successful than Senator Stewart's attempt in the Senate to impeach the testimony of Bleckensderfer an eminent Ohio engineer whose evidence has caused the Board quite as much annoyance as did Chess Senator Hamilton of New Jersey, administered a stinging rebuke to the Nevada Senator, in defense of Bleckensderfer who had been employed by the Committee to make measurements of the work done

The threatened exodus from Russia of 200 000 Mennonites has at length attracted the attention of the Czar of all the Russias General Tottleben the famous defender of Sebastopol has been sent by the Emperor on a mission to the Mennonites He is instructed to make such concessions and special privileges with regard to the new military law (the severity of which is the real cause of this wholesale emigration) as will be likely to deter them from emigrating to America It is said the Mennonites in Prussia were simply drafted to the sanitary branches of the army while in Russia they are to be employed exclusively in military hospitals specially set apart for members of their sect

Advices from all parts of the Willamette valley agree that the prospect of the crops is excellent Fall sown wheat is already beginning to head and the rainfall has been quite sufficient to mature early spring crops The area of ground sown considerably exceeds that of last year but the increase in most of the valley counties is hardly so great as that of 1873 over 1872 It is estimated by a gentleman who is deemed well acquainted with the subject that the aggregate of the wheat harvest of this year will exceed that of last year by about 7 per cent if the season shall continue favorable

Suppose that five years ago the question of giving suffrage to woman had come up in the Senate of the United States how many votes would it have received? It did come up a few days ago and though it was defeated there were 19 votes in favor of the proposition to [illegible] against it Five years more and the vote will very likely be reversed and stand 27 for and [illegible] against The world moves and notwithstanding it sometimes appears for a day to be moving backward it does in fact move forward

In the Second Judicial District Hon J [illegible] Burnett the Independent candidate for [illegible] of the Supreme Court [illegible] elected [illegible] Kelsay Republican and Mosher Democrat So the Independents have elected both the Justices who were to be chosen at this election In the Second and Third Districts the Prosecuting Attorneys have been elected [illegible] the Democrats and in the Fourth [illegible] by the Independent

CITY.

PROBABLY MURDERED.—On Wednesday a man called upon the Coroner and stated that a step-brother of his, who was a professional hunter had been missed for some time. This man resided down on the Columbia river. He was very anxious to ascertain whether the body of the unknown man found floating in the river on Monday and brought to this city was that of his missing step-brother. As the body was buried the Coroner could not let the man see that but he exhibited to him the property found upon the remains and in a small account book which the deceased carried upon his person he found the name "George W Bailey" which at him to [illegible] of no doubt that the deceased was indeed his missing brother. The right side of the informant's man's head and face was crushed in as with a maul or some similar instrument, and there was observed a sharp cut passing oblique ly across the face below the right eye to the upper lip showing that the man had been foully murdered and had fought desperately for his life. These suspicious circumstances it seems would justify a thorough examination of the mysterious manner of Bailey's death. If there has been foul play no efforts should be spared to bring the guilty party or parties to justice.

CITY ELECTION.—At the late meeting of the Common Council, official notice was given of the general city election which will be held in Portland on Monday June 15th for the election of members of that body—one from each ward. The places designated in each ward for holding the election and the Judges and Clerks appointed to conduct the same are as follows:

First Ward—At Armory Hall Stark street Judges, D W Burnside G H Flanders and R R Thompson, Clerks B F Goodwin and H. McCraken.

Second Ward—At No 1 Engine House Morrison street Judges, R Holman, W Showers and S Pennoyer. Clerks, J M Sutton and A C Ripley.

Third Ward—At No 1 Stable Front street Judges, Wm Masters M Peterson and John M Drake, Clerks J A Waters and Andrew Hill. The polls will open promptly at 9 o clock A M and close at 5 o clock P M of the same day.

SUICIDE.—A gentleman writing from Aurora under date of the 4th inst, says "The following are the particulars of a very sad case of suicide which occurred near Molalla Prairie about 8 o clock A M on the 3d of June. It seems from the evidence submitted at the Coroner's inquest held by Wm Moreland J P, that deceased was born in Eriach Switzerland, that her maiden name was Eliza Gutch, and her present name is Eliza Moshberger that she was about 36 years old and had been married about ten years that she was at times laboring under temporary aberration of mind and that during one of these spells last Tuesday morning, she took a fatal dose of strychnine, from which death resulted in about 45 minutes. The jury in this case reported a verdict of death by poisoning during temporary aberration of mind. Deceased leaves a husband and three children of whom the oldest is nine years old and the youngest perhaps about three years."

A VERY WRETCH.—That low, miserable wretch known in this community as "Foul Mouth Murphey" who was arrested late on Wednesday evening, was tried in the Police Court yesterday morning. Murphey was at his old tricks again—getting drunk and raising thunder. The Court gave him the unadulterated benefit of the law, and sent him to jail for 30 days. This fellow has become so case hardened that there is no reformation for him. He has already cost the county and city hundreds of dollars, and been punished by fine and imprisonment time beyond record and still he goes on, no sooner serving out one term than he contrives to call down on his head the severest penalties of the law. Surely such a drunken wretch ought to be committed to an Inebriate Asylum for life, or until he gains a mastery over his depraved appetite for strong drink.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.—Under the head of "Our Next Conference" the Advocate says: "It will be seen that Bishop Merrill will favor [illegible] his presence at our approaching annual conference instead of Bishop Peck. Bishop Merrill was formerly editor of the Western Christian Advocate. He has ever been a hard worker and has brought all the power of his [illegible] to the defence of Methodist institutions and interests. We have few more able presiding officers than he. The East Oregon and Washington Conference will be held at Walla Walla, July 30, The Oregon Conference at [illegible] and, August 12."

CANVASSING THE VOTE.—All the poll books having been received at the County Clerk's office, the official canvassing of the votes as prescribed by law commenced yesterday. Mr Harris, assisted by two Justices of the Peace—L [illegible] and H W Davis—proceeded to open the sealed returns and to canvass the same. After canvassing the votes from eleven [illegible] they adjourned over until to day.

INCORPORATED.—John McIntyre, Master Hill [illegible] Bonser, Secretary and T D Jewett Overseer yesterday incorporated Sauvie's Island Grange No. 143, of the Patrons of Husbandry. The objects of this incorporation, as set forth in the articles, are the protection and advancement of the members of the Order.

BOUND OVER.—Joseph Reed, the colored man [illegible] with illegal voting on Monday was held to answer yesterday in the Police Court in the sum of $100. Another man named Joseph Abler charged with a similar offense, waived an examination, and was held to answer in the sum of $100.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE.—In Sandy precinct F Brown was elected Justice of the Peace and J W Pullen Constable. Gilman Kelly was chosen Justice of the Peace in Powell's Valley precinct and S Brown Constable.

STEAMER SOLD.—The little steamer Maria Wilkins was sold yesterday to Mr I M Watt of this city. The terms are private. We are unadvised as to where the little craft will hereafter run.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A B Gross, of this city has been appointed Commissioner of Deeds by Gov Beveridge, of the State of Illinois.

We ask very special attention to the advertisement of the steamer Orizard which appears in another column.

Until further notice the Calliope will land at Flanders' wharf, at the foot of A street. The public will bear this in mind.

All the Sunday Schools within twenty miles of Hillsboro are expected to attend the Sunday School picnic to be held near Hillsboro tomorrow.

Mr Felix Fredenrich for many years a resident of this city has taken the stand of Ormsby & Co Hillsboro. We commend the Hillsboro folks to him.

Mr Charles A Burchardt, who has been [illegible] with the Gem Saloon for many years [illegible] he having disposed of the well known stand to Joseph Henny formerly with "Bosse."

At the late election Gilmer Kelly was chosen Justice of the Peace in Powell's Valley Precinct S Brown Constable. At Sandy W A [illegible] was elected Chief Judiciary and J W [illegible] ministerial officer of the precinct.

On the glorious fourth all the Grangers of Washington and adjoining counties will give a grand picnic at Hillsboro. Everybody and his mother-in-law are invited. We will try to be there, and if we can't do so our Hillsboro correspondent will serve up the affairs of the day in his own happy style.

PERSONAL.

Father Wilbur and his wife arrived in this city last evening from Fort Simcoe, W T and will remain a while with their friends.

Jas Blanchard, Esq who has just been elected by the Independents as Judge of Columbia county favored us with a call yesterday.

PICNICS.

The Presbyterian picnic to-morrow will be postponed one week if to day should be rainy. Should it be deemed prudent to go Saturday the church bell will ring at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. The fare for adults will be 50 cents and children 25 cents. Recollect that you can secure passage at J street crossing by going over on the Stark street ferry.

The City Rifles have certainly been unfortunate in selection of days to hold their picnic. Twice postponed was the picnic and when they marched to the boat yesterday they little thought the day would have turned out so unpropitious though an occasional drop of rain fell. They were determined to make the most of it and shortly before 10 o'clock the steamer E. A. Cooke with a barge in tow moved away from the O S N Co's wharf the Portland band on the hurricane deck playing a lively air while a goodly number of the fair sex accompanied by gallant escorts appeared in sight waving handkerchiefs and giving unmistakable signs of an intention to spend the day in the best manner possible. No sooner had the party reached the Clackamas near the Clackamas river than a smart shower began to fall. This proved too much for good nature so picnicking was out of the question. The only alternative was to retire to the shelter afforded on the boat. Luncheon was here indulged in, and as there seemed to be no prospect for clear weather it was decided upon to proceed up the river to Oregon City. Dancing was in order and the barge became the attractive point for the balance of the day. Having taken a peep at the Falls now more grand than ever the Managers ordered the boat to be headed for Portland. The trip homeward was slow thus affording the disappointed picnickers an opportunity to pass the time on the boat and barge after a fashion. The members of the gallant company did their utmost to make the pleasure seekers as much at home as possible. Allowing that the day was not spent in the woods as anticipated those attending passed the time in a manner equally as pleasant on board the boat for the reason that they were kept together and had a jolly good time anyhow talking it over. At six o'clock the excursionists were once more at home.

EAST PORTLAND, June 3 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The East Portland M E Sabbath School teachers and friends have just left the eastside cars from one of the most cheery and pleasant picnic excursions ever attended. The day was just right neither too warm nor too cool too wet nor too dry too windy nor too calm too cloudy, nor too clear. The time was just suitable—from 8 A M to 5 P M—neither too long nor too short. The company also was neither too foppish nor too fast but just the kind to enjoy an innocent flash of wit and humor, such as may be consistent with the best motives and kindest regards. The delightful grove, too in the immediate vicinity of the depot and the revolving swing supplied with horse-power were beyond our anticipations—more to our liking than we had dared to hope. And last but not least the attention shown us by the people and gentlemenly proprietors of the place, were such as to enlist our feelings in favor of it as a place of resort for healthful recreation and agreeable pastime second to none that I know of in this part of the country. The party without exception were decidedly gratified with the excursion and I take pleasure in their behalf to speak in praise of Hubbard's Station as a choice place for excursion parties fourth of July gatherings and the like.

A colony of 40 Irish families recently passed through Omaha bound for Hall county Neb and they reported 150 more families en route. Oregon offers a better home for emigrants than Nebraska, yet no efforts are made to secure emigration in this direction.

We have been shown a pair of gauntlets embroidered by one of the Indian pupils under the tuition of the Sisters of the Most Holy Names, at the Grand Ronde Indian Agency that shows the proficiency to which these "children of the forest" can be brought when placed under competent and painstaking teachers.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

We have been handed the following extract in relation to the above order (of which there are several lodges in this city and State) with a request to publish the same. With the hope that it may prove of interest to all members of the order we insert the extract.

AMUSEMENTS.

Considering the inclement character of the weather a fair audience was present last evening at Oro Fino Theater to witness the performance of the excellent company under the management of Madame Phelps. Grist to the Mill, a very amusing comedy was the opening piece. Never before have we witnessed Madame Phelps appear to such advantage in the dual characters of Frances the Miller [illegible] and the assumed Marchioness. Her appearance on the stage was superb and her acting exquisite. Of all the actresses who have appeared before the public during the past six years we can call to mind none whose appearance on the stage more [illegible] and whose manner and style is more charming than Madame Phelps. We observe however one defect in her acting which could easily be avoided and that is, she speak with such wonderful rapidity that it seriously impairs her articulation and prevents the audience from [illegible] the line. Of the remainder of the character of the opening piece we can speak in the warmest terms. They were personated respectively by Mrs [illegible] Morgan Messrs Stump Brown, Crowell and [illegible] in new face all of whom [illegible] their respective parts [illegible]. An interlude followed in which appeared Mrs Morgan Mr Larrows and Belle [illegible] Twitter [illegible] the evening [illegible] which convulsed the audience with laughter. There will be no performance this (Friday) evening. To morrow afternoon [illegible] matinee [illegible] [illegible] the evening A good bill will be offered.

DEATH OF MRS PEARNE.

From the Western Christian Advocate we learn the unwelcome intelligence of the death of Mrs Ann L Pearne wife of Rev Thos H Pearne D D so long a resident of Oregon. Mrs Pearne departed this life at Cincinnati May 11th. Her illness commenced in November last and was attended with much suffering. Her disease (of the heart) was one that baffles human skill to cure or materially relieve. For weeks previous to her decease she had been unable even for a half hour to lie down for sleep or rest. But during all these days she was patient resigned and cheerful. It was one of Mrs Pearne's last requests that no extended obituary should be written of her but merely that she was early converted had tried to live a consistent Christian life was a Methodist from choice and had cheerfully accepted the duties and experience of a minister's wife during thirty three years. She possessed by nature a character of rare symmetry which was beautifully adorned with the graces of a true Christian spirit. The hundreds and thousands who became acquainted with Mrs Pearne during a long residence in this State can bear testimony to her exalted Christian character and great benevolence and hospitality. Her death will be greatly regretted.

GOOD-NATURED MATT CARPENTER

One day during the special session of 1871—a sweltering day in June—Carpenter had made a speech on the Alabama treaty and had [illegible] home to his obscure lodgings on the corner of F and Thirteenth [illegible] tired [illegible] and out of breath [illegible] Fahrenheit marked 100° in the shade. The air was still and [illegible] over the hot brick pavements as an oven. It was not [illegible] for good nature. Matt climbed up the rickety stairway that leads to his rooms, stripped off coat, vest, collar and boots, and [illegible] lounge to smoke a cigar and incidentally to sleep.

Cling, clang, cling.

Darn me, says Matt spitefully, can't they give a fellow a minute's peace? [illegible] come in.

The visitor was a fine decent ould Irish woman between fifty and sixty or thereabouts. She looked tired and worn. She had walked into town from somewhere up in Maryland about twenty miles.

And is this Senator Carpenter, Lord bless him? she inquired.

Yes madam, can I do anything for you? responded the Senator, not in the blandest tones.

Maybe ye might, said the woman. You see, Senator, I am a poor Irish woman. Me husband got sick in the war and he never has been able to do much since, and I've had a hard time of it to get along, wid all the doctor's bills to pay, and—

"Well, well, what has all this story got to do with me? Here is a dollar—

Ah Senator Oohone, it isn't begging I am, and I wouldn't handel or touch o' yer money—it's only chance to work like a dacent woman I want, and they towld me that Sinator Carpinter was a good hearted man, and if I went and towld him me story he would help me get a place in the Treasury Department."

"Treasury Department!" broke in the astounded Senator, "what the—can you do in the Treasury Department?" and he began to imagine either that the woman was crazy or that some heartless practical joker had sent her to him.

"What can I do in the Treasury Department, is it? What can I do? Why scrub, scrub the floors, what else!"

"Scrub!" said Matt. "Well, here is richness! An old Irish woman seeking senatorial influence to get a job of scrubbing! Just you wait till I put on my boots and my hat, my good woman, and I'll see what can be done for you."

And in about five minutes the Wisconsin orator in his shirt sleeves was on his way to the temple of the exchequer with his protégé. The Senatorial influence was potent, and if you call at the Treasury Department and inquire for the woman who hold her position at the request of Matt Carpenter they will show you a fine decent ould Irish woman with gray hair and wrinkled face who mops the floor and scrubs the stairways, and she is Matt's lady friend there.—Missouri Republican.

A "SEDITIOUS MANIFESTATION."—The following good story is told of the late Emperor Napoleon. A Frenchman having served his country with distinction in the army found to his disgust that he was always regaled with the knuckle ends of preferment. If there was a bad post to be filled anywhere it was he who obtained it; if there was a disagreeable expedition anywhere he was ordered off on it as sure as certainty. After some years he had an opportunity of seeing the Emperor while the latter was on a visit to Algeria and then he said to him: I am afraid, sire, some one of your clerks has a grudge against me." "Not at all," answered the Emperor rather coldly. I have heard of your case, and it appears that although you are not a bad officer, you once took part in a seditious political manifestation, and a bad mark has been set against your name in consequence." The officer collected his thoughts for a moment, then struck his forehead and laughed. "Why sure," said he, shall I tell you what was the seditious manifestations in which I joined? It was the raid which you headed when you landed at Boulogne under Louis Phillippe's reign." The Emperor laughed too, but reddened, and the officer of course, found promotion work smoothly from that date. But if it had not been for that chance introduction to Napoleon he would have suffered all his life for having served his master not wisely but too well.

AN ARTIST'S DISTRESS.—Washington Allston, who stood at the head of American artists a half century ago, was at one time so reduced by poverty that he locked his studio in London one day, threw himself on his knees, and prayed for a loaf of bread for himself and wife. While thus engaged a knock was heard at the door, which the artist hastened to open. A stranger inquired for Mr Allston, and was anxious to learn who was the fortunate purchaser of the painting of the Angel Uriel, which had won the prize at the exhibition of the Royal Academy. He was told it was not sold. "Where is it to be found?" "In this very room," said Allston, producing the painting from a corner, and wiping off the dust. "It is for sale, but its value has never been adequately appreciated, and I would not part with it." "What is its price?" "I have done affixing any nominal sum. I have always, so far, exceeded any offers. I leave it to you to name the price." "Will £400 be an adequate recompense?" "It is more than I ever asked for it." "Then the painting is mine," said the stranger, who introduced himself as the Marquis de Stafford, and from that time became one of Mr Allston's warmest friends and patrons."

HOW A BRAVE BOY SAVED MANY LIVES.—Tommy Ryan, a 15-year old lad of Williamsburg, displayed unusual resolution and presence of mind for one of his years, as, by his promptness, his own family, as well as many others were saved. He was in the village near the town hall, with his father's horse and wagon, when the approaching wave was discovered, and, his first thought being to save his mother and younger brothers, he drove with great speed to his home near James' woolen mill, where he gave the alarm. He then thought to save the lives of the operatives in the silk mill at Haydenville by driving in advance of the flood, which he succeeded in doing, arriving at his destination about the same time as Collins Graves, who gave the general alarm through the village. His mother and brothers in the meantime barely escaped death, as in their flight they were obliged to scale a high rail fence. The children got over in safety, but the mother's strength failing just as the waters came up upon her, she fainted, but was with great difficulty dragged to a place of safety by her little sons.—Springfield Republican.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.—In one of Mr Motley's scholarly addresses he mourns over the fact that a language was never perfect until it was dead. If King Alfred should come back to earth, for instance, he would probably not understand a work spoken in his kingdom. While a language is growing there is no accounting for the grotesque forms which words will take. Pocket-handkerchief, for instance, is an absurd mass of syllables for a little thing in common use. It began growing centuries ago. Kerchief is couvrechef, a head covering; then it began to be carried in the hand for obvious purposes, and at last was put in the pocket, gathering cumbrous additions to its name all the way. How much more sensible to call it, as the French do, a mouchoir, a wiper? The only objection to this would be the temptation afforded to low punsters who would warn you whenever you put your mouchoir in your breast pocket not to take a wiper to your bosom.

David P Mellish, Representative from New York, who was removed to the Government Asylum for the Insane, at Washington, about two weeks ago, died there on Saturday afternoon.

Douglass' New National Era, printed in Washington, complains that Mosby, the chief of the guerrillas and still an enemy of the Government, is permitted free access to the floor of the House and Senate, while equally [illegible] brave and able Union officers are invariably denied that privilege.

[illegible] there are no important features to chronicle. The ease in money matters heretofore noticed to which still prevails is likely to continue at least until the present season's crops are ready to be moved. The capital now offered in the market as loanable funds is quite large and is offered on terms more favorable to borrowers than that class has generally been accustomed to in this community. When we speak of borrowers we of course mean such as offer first class security, as no others find accommodations at all readily. The numerous bankruptcies occurring all over the country and the terrible losses falling upon men at the East in the storm of last September's panic taught men everywhere a lesson of prudence and conservatism in the management of their means which has killed off a great many speculations and kept a great deal of worthless paper out of circulation. The rule is now better guaranties and lower rates—a policy that will ultimately redound to the financial progress and prosperity of the commercial relations of the country generally.

Wheat Crops and Markets

There being no longer any uncertainty about a bountiful wheat crop in this State the next consideration of most interest to the producer is the price likely to be obtained for it. An abundant yield in all the great wheat producing regions of the world must of necessity, says an exchange, have a depressing effect on the Liverpool market and cause correspondingly low rates in the primary markets. The present outlook, therefore, is not encouraging for high prices. We have no figures as to contracts for fall delivery in our own market, but learn that some lots have been contracted for delivery in San Francisco in July and August at $1 65@1 70.

The National Crop Reporter, which is considered good authority east of the Rocky mountains, reports the acreage of spring wheat seeded this year 7 to 10 per cent above last year. The acreage in oats this spring, in comparison with the area last spring is an increase in the States named as follows: Indiana 2 6-10 per cent, Iowa [illegible], Kansas 8 8-10, Ohio 8 [illegible] and Wisconsin 3 6 10. In Illinois there is an estimated falling off in the area of 1 1 10 and in Missouri 1 2 10 per cent. The average for the seven States is an increase of [illegible] per cent, at the figures given. The increased area is about [illegible] 000 acres of oats and 127 000 of wheat.

Minnesota is left out of the estimates, but St Paul papers state that the area seeded is very large and that the plant is looking well. The New York Shipping List says that fall sown wheat throughout the West and South rarely ever presented a finer stand, and as the acreage is 9 per cent greater than last year the prospect is encouraging for a large crop.

The season in Europe has been unusually propitious and the prospect in the United Kingdom and most parts of the Continent has not been so favorable in many years. Hungary appears at the present time to be the only country in Europe where there is a prospect of less than an average yield. The latest reports are to the effect that drouth has damaged the crop sufficiently to reduce the harvest 25 per cent. Upon the whole the prospect throughout the world was probably never better, and unless the crops are overtaken by some unlooked for disaster the yield will be the heaviest ever gathered.

At the present time the prospect does not look flattering for high prices in this market, so much however depends upon the rates for freight, that no prediction can be hazarded. One favorable feature in the English market must not, however, be overlooked, which is, that the stock on hand in the United Kingdom at the opening of the new harvest year will be lighter than usual, while our own State probably seldom carried a smaller stock than at the present time.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The prediction heretofore made that the wheat crop of the Wallamet valley for the year 1874 would be larger than ever before is now unmingled with any uncertainty, latest reports confirming prior accounts of bright prospects for an immense yield in all the grain growing counties. In some sections the grain is heading out finely, and the new crop will be coming in large quantities by the 25th prox. At present we have no vessels here to load, and but few transactions are taking place. We quote nominally at $1 6[illegible] ₩ cental. The surplus carried over of the old crop will not be more than 5 000 tons.

FLOUR—The stocks on hand here are not large, but the home trade, which is active, is fairly supplied. Shipments are now comparatively light, and prices though not positively reduced below our last figures are weak at $5 25@5 50 ₩ bbl for extra, and $4 50@5 for common and outside brands. Fine to superfine selling at $[illegible]@4 25.

OATS—The surplus still held in the State is supposed to aggregate a large amount over the requirements for the season, but under the low prices which have ruled in this market and the fear of shippers to handle large lots the surpluses on hand here have fallen off and rates seem now to be undergoing a reactionary movement, and we are able to quote [illegible] cents a bushel higher than last week. Whether the figure of 45 cents ₩ bushel now given will be permanent for any length of time is a matter of doubt.

BARLEY—Is quiet and unchanged at $1 4[illegible] for brewing and $1 40@1 45 for feed.

FEED—Bran is quotable at $13@[illegible] ₩ ton; shorts $17@20; chops, middlings etc $20@25. The supply is not large.

HAY—We quote at $11@12 for loose timothy and $12 50@1[illegible] for baled ₩ ton.

POTATOES—The new crop is coming to hand in small lots; old dull at [illegible]@1c ₩ lb.

ONIONS—Nominally quoted at $3 [illegible] ₩ 100 lbs.

BACON—The market is dull for all kinds at 8@9c ₩ lb for shoulders, 9@10c for sides and [illegible]@14c for hams. Some fancy cured meats command an advance.

LARD—The demand for choice lots in kegs still continues active, and such is in about as much favor as in tins, both styles selling at 13@14c ₩ lb.

BUTTER—The market is well supplied with most varieties and prices are not changed since our last report.

CHEESE—Supplies from our State dairies come in slowly, and importations are still unnecessarily large. Best brands of State dairies bring 17@1[illegible] cents ₩ lb.

EGGS—Lessened receipts and rather better demand for shipping have advanced rates to 18@20c ₩ dozen.

CHICKENS—A fair demand exists with light receipts and steady prices at our last figures.

HIDES—Shipments are heavy, and an active demand exists at 1[illegible]@16c for dry, [illegible]c for green and 7@8c for green salted, if unblemished.

WOOL—Considerable activity in our home market is inspired by news from the East, where our Oregon wool is acquiring an excellent reputation and is in good demand. Prices here of course, vary with the quality and range all the way from 18@[illegible] cents, only extra fine lots bringing the latter figure.
